Highlights

Board Engagement

- Gap Inc. directors must make a significant time commitment when they join our board, including attending formal meetings. In addition, board members often work on board matters and with management outside of formal meetings.
- Board members who are full-time employees of other companies should not serve on more than three public company boards at one time, and directors who are retired from full-time employment should not serve on more than four public company boards, in each case including our board.
- All board members are expected to complete a formal onboarding program within six months of joining.

Board Quality

- Gap Inc. is committed to maintaining an active and engaged board. Qualified candidates for the board are interviewed by the Chair, CEO, at least two independent directors and members of management, as appropriate.
- The Governance and Sustainability Committee is responsible for the review and assessment of the composition and overall performance of the board and each director. As part of this process, each board member must participate in and complete an annual performance evaluation, including individual peer assessments.

Board Backgrounds, Qualifications, and Experiences

- The board believes that differences in backgrounds, qualifications, and experiences are important to the effectiveness of the board's oversight of the company and considers these when evaluating and recommending potential nominees.

Board Independence

- A majority of Gap Inc.'s board members are independent of the company and its management, and we are committed to maintaining at least two-thirds of independent directors. Currently, our board has 11 directors and has determined that 10 are independent under NYSE rules.
- At every board meeting, time is set aside for the non-management and/or independent directors to meet in executive session.

Board Committees

- Only independent directors sit on Gap Inc.'s three board committees.

Audit Firm Lead Partner Rotation

- Gap Inc. rotates the lead partner of its independent registered public auditor, Deloitte & Touche, so that he or she will not perform audit services for more than five consecutive fiscal years. A new lead partner assumed audit responsibility during the first quarter of 2025.

Shareholder Authority

- At any meeting of the shareholders at which a director is not elected, that director shall submit to the board an offer letter of resignation, subject to board acceptance. The Governance and Sustainability Committee will consider the offer of resignation. The board shall act promptly with respect to each such letter of resignation. The board's decision would be disclosed publicly.
- Gap Inc. does not have a classified board. Directors are elected annually.
- Shareholders can act by written consent. Holders of 10 percent of Gap Inc. shares can call special meetings of the shareholders.

Hedging Policy

- Board members and company insiders are prohibited from hedging and engaging in publicly traded option transactions in Gap Inc. stock.

Pledging Policy

- Board members and company insiders are prohibited from holding Gap Inc. stock in a margin account as collateral for a margin loan or otherwise pledging Gap Inc. stock as collateral.
